

CLEF (French Coordination for the European Lobby for Women's Rights) is an advocacy NGO that operates a network of more than 70 associations standing up for the rights of women in France, in Europe, and internationally. CLEF is linked to the European Women's Lobby, of which it is the French coordination. CLEF is accredited to the UN and visits yearly.

CLEF organizes the first International Women's Rights Forum, a public and intergenerational event to raise awareness and mobilize as many people as possible to advance women's rights. The objective is to build together a more equitable society where everyone contributes and benefits from the progress of equality between women and men.
